Art Caplan and Tom Sabatino will begin with a fireside chat and dialogue around the ethical and legal implications of COVID and other critical challenges for General Counsels with GCs from multiple sectors. Then, the participants will break into small groups for an extended simulation around formulating vaccination policy for a global company.

The Forum is sponsored by Debevoise and Plimpton LLP.

Ken Banta, founder and principal of Vanguard will lead the candid, off the record discussion.

Mr. Sabatino is currently executive vice president, general counsel and corporate secretary at Tenneco. Previous GC positions have included Aetna, Walgreens, Hertz, Schering-Plough and United Airlines. He is also co-chair of the Vanguard Network.

Dr. Arthur Caplan, a veteran Vanguard faculty member, is the founding director of the NYU Langone Division of Medical Ethics. Dr. Caplan's recent work includes:

“Virtually every day, GCs are confronted with critical decisions around business ethics - including whether the issue is in fact an ethical one, and also whether it is a matter for the GC,” said Mr. Sabatino. “COVID presents a whole new set of challenges in this area, and I look forward to exploring them with Dr. Caplan and my fellow GCs.”

The online session will take place on April 28 from 12:00 - 2:00 pm ET. GCs can request an invitation here.
